

THE EQUESTRIAN TRIATHLON

Eventing is the equestrian triathlon, requiring each horse and rider to complete three separate phases. Scores from each phase are added together and the winner is the competitor who finishes with the lowest score.

OVER HILL AND DALE

The cross country phase is the most fun to watch and for most competitors, the most fun to ride. Competitors ride a timed course over beautiful Radnor Hunt countryside with solid obstacles which must be jumped. Typical obstacles include stone walls, banks, ditches and water. If a horse refuses an obstacle or completes the course too slowly, penalties are assessed.

THROUGH TWISTS, TURNS AND JUMPS

In the show jumping phase, riders ride a timed course over jumps inside a fenced area. Competitors are penalized for knocking rails down, refusing to jump, or not riding fast enough.

LOOKING PRETTY AS A PICTURE

The dressage phase requires each competitor to ride a prescribed series of movements inside a fenced area without jumps. Horses are judged on their training and rideability and each movement receives a score. Judges are looking for accuracy, smooth transitions between movements, and correct gaits.

FOR ALL RIDERS

Competitors of all ages and abilities compete in eventing. From children as young as eight years old riding at the elementary level to professionals at internationally sanctioned events including the Olympics, eventing is a challenging and exciting equestrian sport.

The Radnor Hunt Foundation/Radnor Hunt Horse Trials is registered as a charitable organization. The official registration and financial information may be obtained from the PA Department of State by calling toll-free 1-800-732-0999. Registration does not imply endorsement.

THE RADNOR EVENTING
TRADITION CONTINUES
OCTOBER 9, 2010

HORSE TRIALS

The 2010 Radnor Hunt Horse Trials continues a 38 year tradition of autumn eventing in the Radnor Hunt countryside. It's the same sport as the old International Three-Day competition, but the jumps are smaller, the dressage tests are easier, and it all takes place in a single day.

Your sponsorship dollars will help the tradition continue. Net proceeds are directed to organizations that support the Radnor equestrian community and preserve the Radnor countryside. Past years' net proceeds have been donated to Radnor Hunt Pony Club, The Radnor Hunt Kennels, and Willistown Conservation Trust.

A United States Eventing Association sanctioned competition, divisions will be offered at the Novice, Training and Preliminary-Training levels.

The 2008 Horse Trials were presented by Mini of the Main Line.

The Radnor Hunt Horse Trials attracts a cross section of eventing competitors, from young pony club riders on well-trained mounts to local professionals bringing along young prospects, to adult amateurs and everything in between.
